

Harvard Business School
2010 OPM Graduation

Greg Barron was selected among his peers to represent the United States to give the graduation keynote address for the 40th graduating class of the Owner President Manager program at Harvard Business School.

Greg, along with fellow Nigerian Business Owner Ayoade Aderele addressed the group of international Presidents and Chief Executive Officers. The fellow graduates join over 50,000 Harvard Business School Alums and more specifically, over 4,200 OPM graduates since 1972. The three-year, on-campus executive program concentrates on leadership, global economics, finance, control, strategy, innovation and negotiation.